

HOWGATE IN WASHINGTON

HIS DAUGHTER IDEAS GREETED HIM IN THE MARSHAL'S OFFICE.They Have a Pleasant Chat, and When Told that the Prison Van Was Waiting the Captain Kissed Her and Started for the Jail in a Happy and Almost Joyous Mood.*WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Capt. H. W. Howgate, the defaulter discharging officer of the Weather Bureau who was arrested in New York last week, arrived in Washington at 4:30 P. M., in custody of ex-Chief Drummond of the secret service and Deputy Bowcock of the United States Marshal's office in New York. The trio walked rapidly through the station to a carriage in waiting and were driven to the United States Marshal's office. On their arrival there Deputy Postwick formally surrendered his prison to Deputy Marshal Robinson, taking a receipt therefor.When Capt. Howgate stepped into the adjoining room, a tall, stately young lady arose and stepped toward him."Well, papa," she said, smiling pleasantly, "I am glad to see you again."*Capt. Howgate shook the outstretched hand warmly, and seated himself beside the young lady, who was his daughter, Missida. During the conversation with his daughter Capt. Howgate was the cool and most self-possessed man in the room. His apparent obliviousness of others and others standing near, and chatted as unconcernedly with Miss Howgate as though their presence there was an accidental circumstance. He looked bright and cheerful, and his appearance which represented him as being absent from age and beauty and breeding, was a decided contrast to the way he was waiting, he arose, kissed Miss Howgate tenderly, and strode quietly out of the room.*Capt. Howgate was sent to the U. S. Marshals' office by Deputy Marshal James E. Sturgis. He was deeply impressed by the changes in the city's appearance since his hurried return from Washington two years ago. He was glad to get back to Washington. He replied that he was, and added that he was sorry he had given up the papers of his non-residence in this city.*SIX MONTHS FOR JOHNSON.*The Beating Minister Has a Bad Record—A Drunkard and a Wife Deserter.*Rober Johnson, the beaving minister who was arrested at the request of Banker Charles L. Nierick of 20 East Thirty-seventh street on Wednesday evening, was committed to the Island for six months by Justice Voorhis in the Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday. In addition to the beating letter found on his person addressed to Mr. Lanier were others in the same vein addressed to August Belmont, James S. Baker, W. B. Hornblower, R. L. Billings, Fred Sturgis, W. R. Butterworth, F. P. Apple, J. P. Haines, E. A. Poor, H. C. Houghton, E. Chapman, W. W. Hopper, and others.*Johnson has been in jail ever since his trial was adjourned on a vacation. He once went to England with his wife. He returned in deep mourning and informed everyone that his wife was dead. He was on an inspection tour and took up a large collection for himself. When it was subsequently learned that he had deserted his wife in England he was excommunicated from the church.*INSANE ASYLUM INQUIRY.*Dr. McDonald Says Accommodations Are Inadequate.*Dr. A. E. Macdonald testified at the hearing of the Ward's and Randall's Island insane asylum case yesterday that the institutions were very much overcrowded. Fifty per cent more accommodation was needed, he said. In the matter of clothing there was room for improvement. The salaries were not adequate, the Doctor thought.*He also said that in his annual reports he had called attention to the needs of the asylums. He had never received all the help he was needed. He considered $3.50 per capita weekly quite necessary for the proper care of the inmates, while the cost now was $2.40.*Dr. Macdonald said his institutions were 2,000 beds short. It would take a million and one-half dollars to build a new asylum to proper standard, he said. Turning a transfer of the city asylums to the care of the State, the witness said he supposed it would be better to have them in the hands of the State than the city.*As to alleged wrongful detentions, Dr. Macdonald declared that he had no power to detain anyone after he left the institutions. No sane person had ever been committed to the asylums unless he or she convived at it. He was asked if he had any objection to turning the asylums over to the government. Dr. Macdonald said four marines guard the relics which will be delivered on board the Detroit at the Norfolk Navy Yard to-morrow. There were nine large boxes, one of them a mosaic which weighed 6,000 pounds, and three others weighing over a thousand pounds each, belonging to the Vatican. These were sent from Naples to New York at the request of the Pope, with an autographed letter of thanks from President Cleveland. The original portrait of Columbus, which was loaned to the government by the King of Spain, was turned over to the Spanish loan, and returned through the American Embassy at Paris. One of the boxes containing the relics was in a case, and it will share its sisterhood on the steamer. It weighed less than five pounds, but it contained the famous cordillera Queen Isabella, which was the cause of the Spanish War of Independence. The Detroit will leave for Cadiz on Monday, stopping for a day at Newport for her torpedo trials.*THE COLUMBUS RELICS.*They Begin Their Homeward Journey to Cadiz and Rome.*WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The Columbian reliques loaned to this Government for display at the Chicago Fair by the Pope, the King of Spain, and the Duke of Tallyrand commenced their homeward journey this morning when they were taken from the basement of the State Department and placed on board the Norfolk cruiser under the superintendence of Mr. W. L. Washington, who is in charge of the government liaison. All four marines guard the relics which will be delivered on board the Detroit at the Norfolk Navy Yard to-morrow. There were nine large boxes, one of them a mosaic which weighed 6,000 pounds, and three others weighing over a thousand pounds each, belonging to the Vatican. These were sent from Naples to New York at the request of the Pope, with an autographed letter of thanks from President Cleveland.
